

Force Lessens POW's Power

Prison Camp Showdown Inevitable

Koje Island, Korea, Friday, May 23—(AP)—Communist inmates retained control within the 17 barbed wire enclosures of this big prisoner-of-war camp today, but were weakened by a firm show of force by U. S. troops.

With an ultimate showdown inevitable, Gen. James A. Van Fleet, U. S. Eighth Army commander, visited both Koje and the prison hospital camp at Pusan Thursday and said the situation "looks very fine today; there has been a great improvement."

Van Fleet told a news conference on Koje: "I believe it is just a question of a short time when the prisoners will conform to all the orders of the camp and will be under complete control within their compounds."

At Pusan, on the mainland 27 air miles to the northeast, he praised American troops who regained control of the hospital compound with a minimum of bloodshed Tuesday.

We Will Command

"Within a few days," Van Fleet said, "we will command these camps as everyone would like them to be commanded. . . . We have treated Communist prisoners of war with every human decency. They, themselves, have responsibilities they have not fulfilled."

At the Pusan camp, one prisoner was killed and 85 were injured when U. S. troops took charge of the rebellious captives Tuesday after five weeks of defiance.

The toughest 1,100 prisoners were moved Thursday to Koje Island, where 80,000 already are held. Remaining at Pusan were 5,300 of the more peaceable Reds.

Reds Rule At Koje

While the Reds still rule inside the wire at Koje, their swaggering attitude has been tempered somewhat. It was a noticeable change from two weeks ago, when they were holding the camp commander, Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd, as a hostage and were dictating fanciful terms to the Allies.

The next step in the tightened security program will be to restore Allied authority within the compounds and eliminate such obvious evidences of defiance as Communist flags and the multitude of derisive posters.

A companion program is removal of unauthorized civilians from this island. About 100 daily are being picked up and taken to the mainland. This is intended to break communications between the prisoners and the Communist military command in North Korea.

OPS Lowers Retail Ceiling Prices On Beef Sirloin

Washington, May 22—(AP)—The government tonight lowered retail ceiling prices on whole sirloins of beef. The reductions range from 2 to 11 cents a pound, depending on the grade of beef and the zone where it is sold.

The Office of Price Stabilization said the new ceilings, effective May 28, reflect lower wholesale levels.

The new ceilings at retail for whole sirloins of choice grade will range from 82 to 86 cents per pound, depending on the zone. The present ceilings range from 93 to 95 cents. The largest reduction of 11 cents-per-pound is for prime and choice grades. The smallest reduction is for utility beef.

WET WEATHER CONTINUES OVER NATION'S MIDLANDS

By the Associated Press

Wet weather continued over much of the nation's midlands Thursday, and showers were reported in the northern Rockies and the New England states.

Little movement was forecast for the rain clouds, so that more showers in the affected areas were expected Friday.

The rain was general over much of Iowa and Missouri eastward through the lower Lake Michigan region and into Ohio. Other widely scattered showers fell in the central plains states.

Temperatures were 10 to 20 degrees warmer Thursday in the middle Mississippi valley, but little temperature changes occurred elsewhere and no major changes were predicted Friday.

A tornado struck the Lawrence, Kan., area Thursday, injuring two persons and causing some small damage to trees, utility lines and houses.

Tornado warnings were issued by the Weather Bureau to residents of all northeastern Kansas.

BULLETIN

Washington, May 23—(Friday)—Agreement in principle on a settlement of the 50-day strike of 30,000 Western Union Telegraph company workers was reported early today.

Persons attending a prolonged closed session said the parties had started drafting the exact terms of a final settlement and predicted the job would be finished sometime before dawn today.

None of the participants—federal mediators or company and union representatives—was willing to talk for the record, and no details of the agreement were disclosed.

An end to the dispute would mark the finish of the first nationwide Western Union strike in 33 years. The strike, started April 3, has curbed nearly half the telegraph company's business, although it has reopened a number of its strike-bound offices over the nation.

Night Club Men To Pay Refunded State Sales Tax

Springfield, Ill., May 22—(AP)—The Illinois Supreme Court today ordered seven Chicago night club proprietors to repay the state $91,912 in sales tax collections they were refunded after a seven-year legal skirmish.

The court criticized former Attorney General George F. Barrett for entering into a consent decree, in Cook county circuit court, which permitted the refund.

In another action, the high court affirmed the death sentence of Bernice Davis, 21, for the murder of two Chicago policemen and set Sept. 12 for his electrocution.

It also dismissed the suit brought by Morey Pines of Dixon, a Republican, contesting the election of Democrat Robert L. Bracken to the circuit court June 4, 1951.

In the night club case, the seven owners in 1941 contended their night clubs and theater-restaurants were exempt from the two per cent sales tax. Food and drink sales, they argued, were a sideline to selling entertainment.

An injunction they obtained kept the state from spending the tax paid and built it up to $90,912 in 1948 when Barrett agreed to the consent decree providing for the refunds.

HST To Abide By High Court Decision

Washington, May 22—(AP)—President Truman declared today that nobody—neither congress nor the courts—can take away from the president his power to seize industry in an emergency.

Yet he readily agreed that if the supreme court rules his steel industry seizure is illegal, he will promptly restore the plants to their private owners. He will turn the mills back and see what happens, he said.

He promised that the nation's railroads, having reached a wage settlement yesterday after 21 months in federal hands, will be returned to private management as quickly as papers can be signed.

Truman asserted his claim to inherent seizure power in the strongest terms he has used to date. He implied at his news conference that he would veto any act of congress seeking to outlaw the seizure technique.

Questions fired from every angle failed to reconcile fully the seeming conflict between his claim to inviolable power and his ready promise to bow to a possible adverse ruling by the supreme court, now studying the case.

The president said he did not believe the questions of constitutionality was before the court, and he didn't expect the court to declare the seizure illegal.

The president has the power to seize, he stated, and they cannot take it away. Who is "they," congress or the courts? he was asked. Truman replied that nobody—and he emphasized the nobody—can take the power away because it is inherent in the constitution, because the chief executive has the responsibility to see that the national welfare is met.

DOGS AND MORE DOGS

Philadelphia, May 22—(AP)—Thirty five dogs—big, little, white, black, brown, all varieties—were loaded into two trucks today after they were taken, barking and whining, from a west Philadelphia home.

The dogs left behind an unknown number of their pals who were spared a ride to the city pound—temporarily, at least—because they were nursing puppies. A few cats also were left in the two-story house.

The police action followed complaints by neighbors to the board of health that the animals were kept in an unsanitary condition.

James Smith agreed to get rid of the dogs. He told Magistrate Jacob Dogole, however, that he likes them.

W. German Peace Pact Near Reality

Bonn, Germany, May 22—(AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and the three Allied high commissioners tonight wound up their work on the peace pact to give West Germany virtual sovereignty and bind her to the western world in the face of widely propagandized Red threats.

They left two important but essentially technical points to be settled by the U. S., British, and French foreign ministers when they arrive here this weekend to sign the pact with Adenauer Monday.

1. The date when the pact becomes effective.

2. The name by which the contract shall be known.

The document is under sharp fire from the Communist bloc outside West Germany and from Adenauer's Socialist opposition within the country. U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson was flying to Bonn tonight.

After the foreign ministers settle the two remaining points with Adenauer, the contract still faces a major hurdle in the West German parliament.

The last of the three dozen drafting sessions of the high commissioners with Adenauer lasted five hours. What they produced was a peace pact for 48 million West Germans who will receive near-sovereignty in return for lining up with the free world in common defense against threats of Communist aggression.

Airmen Celebrate Anniversary By Pounding Reds

Seoul, Friday, May 23—(AP)—Navy and Marine airmen, saluting the 40th anniversary of Marine aviation yesterday, pounded Communist strongpoints across the Korean peninsula with a series of pulverizing blows.

Fifth air force warplanes simultaneously smashed a huge Red supply base in western Korea in dawn-to-dusk attacks which pilots said flattened 117 buildings and damaged 85.

In the key strike, 108 planes roared off the decks of the fast carriers Boxer and Philippine Sea and plunged 150 tons of bombs at the battered port of Wonsan in north-east Korea. Smoke and dust clouds, curling up to 6,000 feet, obscured the city.

Incomplete reports showed 36 supply buildings, five warehouses, a fuel dump, 30 barracks and various bunkers and gun positions destroyed, the Navy said.

Marine planes from the list carrier Bataan bombed Red rail and supply lines and troop positions near the Red Korean capital of Pyongyang in the west. Land-based Marine planes hit the Kyang-based supply and supply area southwest of Pyongyang with 110 tons of explosives.

Allied warships bombed both coasts of Korea.

The air force strike left in flaming ruins a huge storage center near Pyongyang.

The Air Force did not say whether the attacks were as heavy as those that ruined a supply base near Sinmak March 11 and at Suwon May 8, but they appeared to be in the same class.

The Air Force had described the raid on Suwon, 35 miles southeast of Pyongyang, as the heaviest of the war. It said the strike at Sinmak, 45 miles southeast of Pyongyang, was the most jellied gasoline fire bombs of any raid of the war.

Charge Man Used Firm's Funds To Play Santa Claus

Chicago, May 22—(AP)—A 43-year-old messenger who prosecutors said played good Samaritan with at least $34,000 of his employer's funds was charged with forgery today.

He is Anthony C. Adams, a bachelor and 42-4-week messenger in the executive offices of the Union Stock Yard & Transit Co.

Prosecutor James A. Brown said Adams obtained the money over a period of a year by forging the name of the company president, William Wood Prince, to cash vouchers and obtain checks in return.

The prosecutor quotes Adams, employed by the stock yard firm 25 years, as saying he "played Santa Claus with the money." Brown said that as far as could be learned Adams had given all the money to persons he considered in need and kept none for himself.

More than $5,000 was traced to a saloonkeeper whose home "needed fixing up," Adams told the prosecutor. A union official got $9,650 because Adams thought he should dress differently and another official of the same union who needed a hernia operation got $15,000, Brown said.

The prosecutor said Adams habitually turned his $42 salary over to his mother, with whom he lived, and kept $10 for his expenses.

Adams was released on $10,000 bond. Brown said he would seek a grand jury indictment against him this week.

Big Storm In Illinois Just A Lot Of Wind

Champaign, Ill., May 22—(AP)—Rumor put some fancy twists on a non-existent twister today.

Near panic overtook the twin cities of Champaign and Urbana as the report spread that a tornado was headed their way. Schools were dismissed; streets were deserted; newspaper and radio station switchboards were jammed with queries.

It all happened this way: Ozark Air Lines in Decatur put a message on its private teletype this afternoon, saying it had a report there was a tornado 60 miles west of Springfield.

(Champaign and Urbana are about 90 miles east of the capital.) The message asked the airline's other offices to attempt to get official confirmation.

Meanwhile, the University of Illinois airport gives a weather report every hour to the university police. In its 2 p.m. report, the airport mentioned the Ozark message. The police, under a university disaster plan, notified key personnel in student residences, and one student telephoned the superintendent of schools in Champaign (on his own, not as part of the plan.)

By this time, the story was that an airline pilot had seen a tornado headed for Champaign and Urbana. School Superintendent E. H. Mellon ordered all schools dismissed, and the kids ran home and told their parents a tornado was coming.

That did it. Everyone started telephoning the newspapers and radio stations. Mothers kept their youngsters indoors and the streets emptied of traffic.

The Champaign News-Gazette began checking back and discovered the chain of events which set off the rumor. The newspaper and the radio stations began informing the public the big storm was just a lot of wind.

Acheson To Aid Plan For German Rearmament

Washington, May 22—(AP)—President Truman sent Secretary of State Acheson off to Europe tonight to complete arrangements for German rearmament. The president said the mission will make "a great contribution to the peace of the world—if it is successful."

The president's qualification indicated that the American government is not yet certain of prompt agreement on a peace contract and on a European defense treaty which are now being wound up at Bonn and Paris. But other officials said that they were reasonably confident that both documents will be ready for signing in a few days.

The president and Mrs. Truman said farewell to the secretary and Mrs. Acheson at the military air transport terminal. Truman gave his No. 1 cabinet officer a warm handshake as Acheson boarded the plane.

A moment before the president, speaking into a battery of microphones before a group of State department officials and western European diplomats, said he had come to the airport "to wish Dean Acheson a safe landing and a successful conference."

Replying, Acheson said that it is a "difficult mission on which you are sending us." He declared that many problems lie ahead "but we believe that with the support you have given us and are continuing to give us we can come back and report mission accomplished."

Aides said Acheson probably would return to Washington in about a week.

Brannan, Kem Clash At Grain Storage Shortage Hearing

Washington, May 22—(AP)—Secretary Brannan tagged as "pure nonsense" today assertions that the agriculture department which he heads depressed farm prices in 1948 to bring about a Democratic presidential victory.

Brannan made the comment in a statement handed to newsmen at the end of a hectic day of testimony before the Senate agriculture committee, he was before the group for a second day in connection with its inquiry into department operations, centering on shortages in the grain storage program.

Brannan clashed angrily with Sen. Kem (R-Mo.), who accused him of raising "a smoke screen of slander to cloak your own failures." Kem objected particularly to Brannan's recent statement that the Senator is "against nearly everything the farmer needs."

Brannan said he intended to make the statement again, adding: "I intend to document it."

"The libel laws being what they are, you'd better document it very thoroughly," Kem said. He did not elaborate on this veiled suggestion that he might sue the secretary.

Big Cities With No TV Stations Get First Call

Washington, May 22—(AP)—Big cities now without a local television station will get first call in the processing of applications for new stations.

The Federal Communications Commission, which will begin processing applications July 1, issued its priority list today.

Cities without local TV service were listed in order of population according to the 1950 census and that is the way the applications will be processed, the commission said.

The cities were divided into two groups with equal priority. Group A-2 listed cities eligible for both ultra high frequency and very high frequency channel assignments.

Top cities in the A-2 group included Peoria, Ill.

A GOOD PLACE TO PICNIC

Springfield, Ill., May 22—(AP)—New facilities have been installed for open air enthusiasts visiting Illinois state parks, Superintendent Ray Hubbs said today.

Picnic tables to accommodate 9,000 persons—six to a unit—have been added, bringing overall capacity to 139,000. Five hundred new fireplaces have been built.

Harriman Speaks Against T-H Law In St. Louis

St. Louis, May 22—(AP)—W. Averell Harriman, campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination, denounced the Taft-Hartley law today during an unscheduled visit with union leaders preparing for a contract negotiating session.

The mutual security administration director was escorted by a labor leader to a department store warehouse where a union committee and the department store management were about to start contract talks. Harriman asked a union representative what effect union restrictions in the Taft-Hartley act were having on the negotiations.

Told that "certain difficulties" were inevitable under the law, Harriman said: "I think we both agree that the real trouble will begin when there is unemployment and the employer decides he wants to break up a union. He will find plenty of teeth in the Taft-Hartley act to help him do it."

Harriman also visited a union health center where 57 doctors and dentists handle 80,000 patient visits annually on a part-time basis.

"There's no reason why this type of health service can't be brought to every single American," he said. "I'm against people who say that this type of thing can't be done."

Harriman will fly to Denver tomorrow morning but is scheduled to return to St. Louis Saturday afternoon for an AFL conference on international affairs.

'Let 'Em Rant' New Top Man Says Of Reds

Munson, Korea, Friday, May 23—(AP)—Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., takes over today as top man of the Allied armistice team. He is a serene soldier who says of Red negotiators "let 'em rant and rave."

The negotiations, bogged in recriminations over the exchange of prisoners, resume at 11 a.m. (9 p.m. Thursday, CDT).

Harrison succeeds Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, who gave the Communists a parting verbal volley Thursday and a tremendous scare.

After Joy finished his remarks, he stalked from the truce tent at Panmunjom. Harrison and the other Allied negotiators stood up as he left.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, official United Nations command spokesman, said the Communists "thought for an instant it was a walkout." The Reds have been daring the Allies to walk out for weeks.

Joy's departure "seemed to take the Communists completely by surprise," Nuckols added. The Communists calmed down when Harrison walked over and handed in his credentials.

Joy in his farewell statement accused the Reds of being interested only in gaining time to rebuild their "shattered forces" and to win by negotiation what they "could not accomplish in the field."

HOLDS UP BANK TO PAY FOR OPERATION

New York, May 22—(AP)—A tiny divorcee held up a bank with assets of $789 million today, using a 79-cent toy pistol. But she gave up in flight at the crack of a real gun.

Identified by police as Mrs. Ann Myers, she said she wanted $400—the exact amount she took—for an operation. She did not disclose its nature.

"So I decided to rob a bank," she said. "I hoped to get away with this. They (doctors) all advised an operation. I was willing to risk it. After all, if peritonitis sets in, I'm dead."

She had 95 cents in her purse. Mrs. Myers, 34, and weighing 81 pounds, works part time as a department store typist. She has two children.

Russia Protests Iran's Acceptance Of US Aid

House Cuts Foreign Aid Program

Washington, May 22—(AP)—The House slashed $1,626,200,000 from President Truman's foreign aid program in a series of votes today.

The decision meant that House supporters of Senator Taft of Ohio had won a round in their fight for sizable reductions. Rep. Vorys (R-Ohio), a Taft backer, led in the demand for cuts. Supporters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Taft's rival for the G.O.P. presidential nomination, came out for smaller reductions.

The reductions are tentative, since they will be subject to roll call votes when final action on the bill is taken. The House drove ahead into a night session on the big measure.

The president has asked for $7,900,000,000 to give direct military aid and economic assistance to countries aligned with the United States against the threat of Communist aggression.

By a standing vote of 163 to 116, the House approved a total cut of $797,200,000 from funds earmarked for economic aid to Europe.

A total of $1,819,200,000 had been requested by the administration for this purpose during the next fiscal year. The House foreign affairs committee lopped off $181,900,000 and a second big cut of $635,300,000 was made on the floor.

Direct military aid to Europe was tentatively approved at the figure of $3,316,000,000. This was the amount recommended by the committee. It is $829,000,000 less than the president requested.

Former Secretary Of State Auto Club Freed Of Charges

Chicago, May 22—(AP)—Miss Evelyn Marks, 50, former secretary of the Illinois Automobile Club, was freed today of a charge of conspiracy to embezzle $217,000 from the club's insurance firm.

Miss Marks and Carl A. Barrett, former president of the club, were on trial in criminal court on the conspiracy charge. Two other men pleaded guilty Monday and a fourth man is awaiting a separate trial.

Judge Wilbert P. Crowley granted a defense motion for a directed verdict of acquittal for Miss Marks. Attorney Charles Bellows argued that no conspiracy could be shown against her. The state had rested its case against Miss Marks and Barrett.

The jury trial of Barrett continued with introduction of defense evidence.

Paul Temple, 48, of Chicago, and William L. McFarling, 51, of Decatur, Ill., pleaded guilty to the conspiracy charge Monday. Both testified as state witnesses yesterday. John R. Doolin, of Joliet, is awaiting a separate trial.

Death Sentence For Soldier In German Murder

Nuernberg, Germany, May 22—(AP)—A U. S. army court martial today sentenced to death a 19-year-old American soldier for the highway murder of two Germans he said he killed because a buddy "egged me on."

Sharp-faced 1st Lt. John F. Vigneault of Goffs Falls, N.H., described by the defense as a mental child too backward even to be allowed to target practice with his fellow GIs, took the sentence with no show of emotion.

He broke into sobs after he was led from the courtroom.

Vigneault is believed to be the first American to be sentenced to death for killing a German since the end of the war.

Although the 10-officer court did not specify the usual army method of carrying out the death sentence is on the gallows. As in all military court cases, however, the sentence is subject to review by higher authority and confirmation by the president of the United States.

Senate Passes Immigration Bill

Washington, May 22—(AP)—The Senate tonight passed the bitterly-fought McCarran bill revising the nation's immigration and naturalization laws.

Passage came by voice vote after nearly two weeks of debate during which opponents tried unsuccessfully to send the bulky measure back to the judiciary committee which Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.) heads and then to substitute a bill of their own.

The House had passed a somewhat similar bill on April 25 by a vote of 206 to 68.

The bill would wipe out racial barriers to immigration, remove present security discriminations, tighten security screening provisions, and give preference to immigrants with skills needed in this country.

The measure, sponsored by McCarran, would retain the present national origins quota system of immigration and increase only slightly the number of immigrants eligible for admission each year.

NEVER TOO OLD ALTHOUGH YOU'RE 121

Los Angeles, May 22—(AP)—You think you're too old for insurance? Well, Joseph Dawn Louder says he's 121. Lloyd's of London gave him a $10,000 policy under a newspaper's travel and pedestrian plan offered to subscribers.

Louder is sharp, alert and doesn't look a day over 90. But he says he was born near Ridgeway Hill, Pa., April 30, 1831. He's never been able to get a birth certificate, he concedes. His father, he says, was a Mohican Indian, his mother half French and half Mohawk Indian.

For reporters, he had such recollections as: Sleeping in a bed for the first time in Washington, D.C., "before he was 30" and chatting a few minutes with President Lincoln.

Serving as a paid scout for the Union army, meeting General Custer, but "I didn't care much for him. He was bullheaded."

Meeting the outlaw boys and Cole Younger while riding the range in the southwest. "Socially, I might say. Never did business with them. I was always an honest one."

Of television: "Scart me at first. Now it keeps me up 'til 12."

Of marriage: "I'm a widower now, but I ain't given up. I'm looking for a fat gal so I can walk in the shade on sunny days."

Formula for long life: "Just keep breathin', son. Just keep breathin'."

Russell Gets Votes, Taft Stumps S. Dak. Leads Ike

Georgia's Senator Richard B. Russell picked up speed yesterday (Thursday) as a third-place contender in the nation wide race for delegates to the Democratic national convention in July.

Russell got a big boost when North Carolina Democrats, meeting in state convention, endorsed him for the presidential nomination.

Previously, Russell had trailed far back behind the front-running Senator Estes Kefauver and foreign aid Chief W. Averell Harriman.

Not counting the North Carolina results, the Associated Press tabulation showed Kefauver with 116 delegates, Harriman with 83 and Russell with 4

THE "HIGH SCHOOL HOUSE"

Are you one of the few Jacksonville citizens who hasn't driven by the "high school house" at 316 Finley street to take an advance look at what the boys have done?

There stands a well-built, attractive 6 room house, which would thrill the hearts of newlyweds or impress older couples with its architectural beauty. The boys built it with the aid of expert instruction, as other boys in Building Trades Classes at Jacksonville high school have erected several houses in recent years.

The structure is complete to the most minute detail, ready for occupancy. Grounds are landscaped, planted in grass and shrubs. The building trades class for 1951-52 under supervision of Elbert A. Lair, instructor, can now look with pride upon another finished project. Principal John Agger and John May, vocational supervisor, have aided and encouraged the annual home-building job.

Open house is being held at the new address on Finley street from 2 to 10 p.m., to permit the public to inspect the premises. Visitors will see the results of long-range planning, skill, and toil of a group of young artisans, who last year started work at a vacant lot and converted it into a modern home. The entire community has reason to be proud of young men who, working earnestly and following the instruction of experienced older heads, can turn out work of this kind.

The climax of the Building Trades Class project is the sale of the new home to the highest bidder. This event will take place at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 24, at the home site. Judging from auctions of previous years, a number of persons will be on hand to compete with their cash for the privilege of owning and living in the house. Many others in the auction crowd will wish that by some sudden stroke of good fortune they, too, could become its owner.

The high school house this year is a dandy! It should bring a substantial price.

WHAT'S WRONG IN KOREA?

To ascertain first-hand what basis there is for the charges that United States soldiers in Korea are fighting with obsolete weapons, and frequently are actually short of ammunition, the Detroit News sent a staff member over to gather the facts.

The News' reporter says American soldiers are fighting a war with second-hand equipment. This equipment came from Japan, where it was dumped following the surrender, and much of it underwent repairs before being sent to the front.

The reporter says he was asked many times by the men:

"What are we doing here if the country is not interested enough in the war we are fighting to give us the best equipment made?"

U. S. soldiers in Korea know such equipment is being manufactured and wonder where it is going when it is so badly needed in Korea.

Asked these questions, the Army brass says it would come in for much criticism if it did not make use of this equipment. Meanwhile the men are making the best of a situation which finds them handicapped in the matter of equipment.

The ammunition shortage is real and most serious. The reporter found places in the front line where enemy guns could not be answered because U. S. batteries had no shells. Lives were being lost for that reason. The reporter's story reveals other shortages equally serious.

If the government, spending $80,000,000,000 a year, cannot provide the best equipment and adequate ammunition for several hundred thousand troops in Korea, what would be the cost of all-out war with Russia?

THOUGHTS

And the trees said to the fig tree. Come thou, and reign over us. But the fig tree said unto them, Should I forsake my sweetness, and my good fruit, and go to be promoted over the trees?—Judges 9:10, 11.

Parents Should Feel No Blame For Birth of Mongoloid Child

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

A correspondent writes "my baby was born three and one-half months ago. One doctor said that he was a mongolian baby, another thought he was, and two others say he isn't please write about mongolism in your column."

It should be possible to make a definite decision as to whether the baby in mongoloid or not since the signs of this peculiar condition are present at birth and can be diagnosed then 9 times out of 10.

In mongolism, the skull is small around, the slits for the eyes are narrow and tilted and a fold is present over the inner margin of the eye. The cheeks are often red, the hair is coarse, the teeth appear large, the tongue is stubby and depressed, with the nostrils angling forward.

The name "mongolism" comes from the appearance which is sometimes like that of the far eastern race known as Mongols.

Most mongoloid children are happy and friendly. During infancy they are great imitators and often like music. They rarely learn to speak properly and the voice tends to be rough and harsh. Many die in infancy and few live beyond their teens.

Many possible causes have been suggested, studied, and abandoned. Some people think, or at least have thought, that mongolism comes from some hereditary tendency, the exact nature of which has not yet been discovered. In recent years, however, most of those who have studied the subject agree that there is a definite relationship between the age of the mother and the frequency of mongolism in the child, that is, the older the mother the greater the chance of having a mongoloid child.

Separation Desired

The birth of a mongoloid child comes as a terrible shock to the parents. It should be considered as a pure accident and does not reflect in any way on the parents, the diet, the medical care, or any other known factor. Most doctors experienced in this field believe that mongoloid idiots should be committed to an institution as soon as possible after birth. Immediate separation before emotional ties are formed is the best solution for family and child. The chances are good (about 20 to 1) that other children born later will be normal.

The World Today

BY JAMES MARLOW

Washington, May 22—(P)—The whipping boy of the steel dispute, the Wage Stabilization Board, is in for a fresh beating. The Senate Banking Committee yesterday suggested drastic changes in the WSB setup.

Now the Board has 18 members, of whom six represent organized labor, six industry, and six the public. The Banking Committee thinks that the board should be made up of public representatives only.

The board now can recommend ways of settling a union-management dispute. The committee thinks it should be stripped of this power.

Ever since its recommendations in the steel dispute the WSB has been taking a beating from those who disagreed with it while its friends, particularly labor unions, patted it on the head.

Besides suggesting the steelworkers should have a union shop, an idea which didn't add to the industry's happiness, the WSB recommended the workers be given a raise of about 26 cents an hour.

The industry said it couldn't grant the raise without a compensating increase in prices.

Back in the fall of 1950 congress gave President Truman authority to set up price and wage controls, which he did by establishing WSB and OPS (Office of Price Stabilization).

This was at the time when Charles E. Wilson, the defense mobilizer was the big boss on inflation controls.

Organized labor didn't like his way of running things. Particularly, it didn't think he bent his ear enough to listen to labor. So the labor members of WSB walked out in protest against Wilson.

Truman finally got labor back in. He widened the board's powers by letting it decide not only how much a boss could raise but recommending how much he should.

The American Federation of Labor has now informed congress it won't have anything to do with WSB at all if Congress follows the senate committee's idea and makes all the WSB members public members. The CIO doesn't like this notion either.

Remembering what happened in the previous walk-out of labor, which practically destroyed the board until Truman revived it, it isn't hard to see something of the same thing happening again if the board winds up with only public members.

Brewster Leads Loose Money Charge in Maine Senate Race

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington—(NEA)—Loose money charges are flying around at a great rate in the Maine Republican senatorial race. The rival candidates in the June 16 primary are Sen. Owen Brewster, a Taft backer, running for re-election, and Gov. Frederick G. Payne, an Eisenhower man.

Senator Brewster has charged that "a Maine solon" was offered $150,000 by "a well-known figure" to make the race against him—Brewster. No names were named, but hints have been dropped that the offer was supposed to have been made by Howard Hughes, who tangled with Brewster in 1947 over an aviation investigation.

Hughes charged that Brewster had offered to call off the investigation if Hughes would consent to merge his Trans-World Airline with Pan-American for a "chosen instrument," U. S. flag airline. Hughes and Brewster have been enemies ever since and Senator Brewster has frequently been referred to as "the senator from Pan-American."

Anyway, Howard Hughes denies that he has made any offers of money for the Maine campaign. Gov. Payne denies that he received any such offers from anyone.

A poll of the Maine congressional delegation at first brought a denial from all of them that they had received any such offers of financial aid to run against Brewster. Later, Rep. Charles Nelson of Augusta said he "would have to qualify" his denial, but made no further explanation.

All this is counter-barrage to Senator Brewster's own inability to explain satisfactorily to the House Ways and Means tax scandal investigators a $2500 check from mystery man Henry Grunewald.

Senator Brewster did explain an involved $10,000 transaction by which Grunewald borrowed the money, then gave it to Brewster for use in the Republican senatorial campaign of 1950. Brewster was senatorial campaign manager. He got the money to help Senators Richard Nixon of California and Milton Young of North Dakota.

Brewster had admitted it was wrong for him to do this. He has explained repayment to Grunewald of $1500 on Aug. 3 $2000 Aug. 7, $6500 Aug. 16—making $10,000. But Senator Brewster has not explained the $2500 check which Grunewald paid to Brewster on Oct. 19, 1950.

The Ways and Means Committee, headed by Rep. Cecil King of California, holds the cancelled check. But because of congressional courtesy, Brewster has not been pushed for his explanation.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine has so far tried to keep strictly neutral on the Brewster-Payne race. Government Payne appointed a couple of anti-Margaret Smith people to state office, so the lady senator from Maine isn't too fond of him.

Senator Brewster, on the other hand, has been trying to prove that his voting record has been much like Senator Smith's. Actually, the two differ widely, particularly over the issue of McCarthyism, which Mrs. Smith opposed in her "Declaration of Conscience."

Paul Hoffman, head of the Citizens' Eisenhower - for - President movement, says that shortly after he got leave of absence from the Ford Foundation to start working for Ike, his wife cornered him and began upbraiding him.

"When I first married you, 37 years ago," she said, "you were a respectable business man. Then you became a bureaucrat. And now you're a politician. What on earth are you going to do next?"

Incidentally, Hoffman says money is not rolling into the Eisenhower campaign headquarters, all other reports to the contrary.

When a last-minute call came in from New Hampshire for $5000 to buy radio time before the primary, Hoffman himself, who was in California, had to get busy on Sunday afternoon. He raised $4500.

Then when the Ike backers came close to being mousetrapped in New Jersey through a belief that an easy victory was in the bag, it became necessary to raise $3500 in a hurry for advertising to get out the vote. It was tough and go for every dollar.

Mr. Hoffman concedes that a few angels and fat cats might be found to finance the entire campaign but his committee has steered away from the big contributions and has tried to get smaller gifts from more people. A ceiling of around $3000 has been set on individual contributions.

Oklahoma Sen. Robert S. Kerr's newly opened Washington headquarters for his Domestic presidential nomination campaign is concentrating on playing down the fact that their man is a rich oil tycoon.

What they are trying to play up is that of Bob is a one-gallus type of guy who was actually born in a log cabin. The fact that he became a multi-millionaire is brushed off as purely incidental, and the result of his hard work.

EAT WELL for Less

Take Canned Foods on Picnic

SKILLET TREATS for your Decoration Day picnic are easy to pack and carry in cans and will surely satisfy those fresh air appetites.

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

No longer must Mother get up hours before the family to prepare the Decoration Day picnic meal. Now she finds many picnic ingredients neatly packed in cans and no worry about packing them safely.

Fresh air appetites are always sharp so plan one or two hearty main dishes. Canned corned beef hash is one favorite. To serve, just heat it in a skillet with slices of tomato, onion and green pepper.

Another delicious main dish is made from three canned products—one can of baked beans, one of sliced apples and two of Vienna sausage. Many are the varieties of canned meats which today offer a spectacular combination of flavor, nutrition, economy and convenience. For picnics, they are tops.

There are ham and liver spreads for easy sandwich makings; there are canned hamburgers and frankfurters which eliminate the hazard of carrying fresh meat in hot weather. Be sure to take along an efficient can opener.

A good tip in the beverage department is to fill your thermos with crushed ice and take your chilled canned or bottle beverages along separately. To serve, pour drinks over ice from thermos.

If you like cake for dessert but don't want to be concerned with packing to keep the frosting intact, make cupcakes, split them in the middle and frost the inside. When it comes to fruits, bananas are easy to carry on an outing. So are apples.

$6,000,000 Plant Advertises Jacksonville

Jacksonville will not only benefit from the large payroll of the $6,000,000 industrial plant of Mrs. Tucker's Foods, Inc., but will derive widespread publicity from its presence through national newspaper and radio advertising. All future ads throughout the country will focus attention on Jacksonville, company officials said Thursday as they launched an advertising campaign centered around the local industry.

Housewives in the Jacksonville area this week are making a full-fledged Illinois citizen of Mrs. Tucker, whose kindly countenance has smiled from advertisements in the Journal Courier and newspapers in Springfield, Peoria, Galesburg, Bloomington, Decatur, Champaign-

Urbana and Danville. Radio commercials also tell of the products manufacturing company.

Mrs. Tucker's Shortening is offered for sale for the first time in this section. For two generations this all-vegetable product has been featured in southern cooking. It is available to Illinoisans now because of the big vegetable oil processing plant the company is building east of Jacksonville, near the C. B. & Q. railroad, and junctions of U. S. Routes 36-34 and state Route 104.

Thousands of travelers have viewed the big plant as it rises and grows toward the day of production. The above sketch shows the location of the various units and pictures the expanse of the factory.

City Sanitarian Says Rabies Law To Be Enforced

City Sanitarian James R. Hildebrand announced Thursday that Jacksonville's ordinance against dogs running loose in the summer time will be enforced. "Because the rabies menace is on the rise again with the onset of warm weather, the health department plans to protect the lives and health of children and citizens generally by the enforcement of the law," Hildebrand announced.

The ordinance requires dog owners to tether their pets to a chain, cord or rope not exceeding ten feet in length from April 1 to Sept. 30, or to keep the animals penned up.

Hildebrand added that the city's dog control officer, Jesse Wright, recently has received numerous complaints from gardeners who say that canines are running across their newly planted garden plots and causing damage. "Dog owners are responsible for these depredations," Hildebrand said, "and the dog control officer has been instructed to halt owners into police court if complaints continue." A fine could be exacted for such an offense, the sanitarian pointed out.

A program of inoculation against rabies similar to last year's will be inaugurated early in June, it was announced. It is planned to include in the schedule an inoculation program for the benefit of dog owners residing in Morgan county communities outside Jacksonville.

Stock Car Fans To See Special Card Tonight

Rained out the past two Friday nights, stock car drivers will once again attempt to beat the weatherman and each other at the Morgan county fairgrounds track this evening.

Last week's program saw just one race completed before the rains came. Commissioner Elmer Mendenhall has worked all week preparing the quarter-mile oval for the stocks. Tonight's races will preview the big car show to be held on the half-mile track Sunday afternoon.

Because of the two successive rain-outs, tonight's program will be bigger and better than ever, report local officials.

The regular 40 lap feature race will be divided into two 20-lappers. The first 20 will give the slower timed cars the pole positions. The second 20 will allow the faster cars to take the lead at the start. A ten-minute pit stop will divide the two races.

This method will double the places and allow more drivers to profit. An extra 25 lap race will also highlight tonight's special program. In addition there will be the usual diet of three heat races and the two semi-finals.

Time trials start at 7 p.m. with the first race scheduled for 8 o'clock. Reports from Quincy have it that "Pappy" Gross has smoothed-out the kinks in his Chrysler and is ready to overtake his boy, Sonny. The elder Gross ran at Macomb last week and gave Earl Setzer quite a run in the feature before falling back to second behind the Jacksonville car.

Sonny Gross is still top point winner on the circuit.

Solon Charges That Baseball Is Monopolistic

Washington, May 22 — (AP) — Rep. Hillings (R-Calif.) charged today that organized baseball is monopolistic because it hasn't pushed major league operations west of the Mississippi river.

The Californian issued a statement saying the "geographical imbalance" of the majors prompted the House judiciary subcommittee's action in refusing to okay bills exempting baseball from anti-monopoly legislation.

A similar expression came from Chairman Celler (D-N.Y.) who added that he was referring not only to the lack of major league baseball on the west coast but also in other sections deserving of top performance.

Hillings served on the subcommittee during its investigation of the sport and poked the questioning regarding the game's territorial rights and the movement of franchises.

"To me, the attributes of monopoly in baseball are more apparent in its territorial rights and agreements than in the much discussed reserve clause," he said.

He charged that organized baseball didn't come before the committee "with clean hands," and added: "By its refusal to take steps to change the status quo in the major leagues, organized baseball virtually admitted that it is engaging in monopolistic practices."

He cited figures received by the committee showing that Boston, St. Louis and Philadelphia have not successfully supported two big league teams.

Seek Extradition Of Bill Spivey To New York

Albany, N.Y., May 22 — (AP) — Gov. Dewey signed extradition papers today requesting the return of basketball player William Spivey from Kentucky to face perjury charges in New York City in connection with "fixed" games.

Spivey played center for the University of Kentucky court team during the 1950-51 season.

He was indicted on a charge of first-degree perjury by a New York county grand jury on April 24.

Dewey signed the requisition for extradition at the request of Manhattan's district attorney, Frank S. Hogan. Hogan has exposed a series of basketball scandals in the last year concerning fixed games and "point shaving."

The perjury charge apparently was based on testimony by Spivey when he appeared before a Manhattan grand jury last Feb. 27.

The governor's office said that Spivey had not been asked to waive immunity at the time.

The extradition requisition, addressed to Gov. Lawrence W. Weatherby of Kentucky, was forwarded to prosecutor Hogan, who, in turn, will send it to Kentucky authorities.

Bob Cerv, rookie outfielder for the New York Yankees, has three sisters who are softball stars.

Crotchet smacked a home run for Greenfield in the third and Paul Fox of Jacksonville showed his old form by blasting a ball over the center field fence for Dixon's late-starting club.

Rich Dixon pitched for the losers. Osborne pitched for Greenfield.

FAN BREEZES

BY BOB MERRIS

Al Sweeney, personable big car promoter here for Sunday's races at the Morgan county fair grounds, tells the story behind the story concerning Bill Holland's suspension as an AAA race driver.

The soft-spoken Holland raced four times in the 500-mile at Indianapolis and compiled a remarkable record. He finished second three times, then won in 1949.

The next season he was suspended by Wilbur Shaw, who bosses the show at Indianapolis, for one year. He was dropped from the roles allegedly because Holland competed in a stock car race that was not sanctioned by the AAA moguls.

But the door has been closed to Holland for three years. "There must have been another reason," we asked Sweeney.

"Well," said he, "Bill tells me a different story than the one Shaw put out. Holland's story sounds correct because the original suspension was only for one year. The real truth is that Bill was suspended because of a feud with Shaw, and that is why the suspension has lasted so long."

"Frank Luptow, who raced his Black Panther Offenhauser in Jacksonville last summer, was admitted to the AAA this year. Holland's application for reinstatement was rejected once again. So we traded Luptow for Holland," smiled Sweeney.

The Chicago Irishman continues his story. "It was in 1949 after Holland had won the 500. Some movie people wanted to use strips of the Speedway film in a picture they were making. Shaw okayed the deal but pulled a 'fast one' on the other drivers. Actually Shaw inserted a trick clause in the drivers' application blanks. They didn't read what they signed. Shaw made $7,500 as technical director of the picture. The other drivers were shut out."

Anyway, Holland appeared in the picture some 20 times. Bill wanted to be reimbursed for the movie people for the use of his name and picture. Hollywood kicked back at Shaw. Wilbur

Moore owned both Holland's and Rose's car. Since Rose and Holland had one-two positions clinched, Moore didn't want the valuable cars damaged in a useless (to him at least) tussle for the championship. Again Bill was left holding the used oil drum.

So Holland is now hooked up with Sweeney and his pard, Gaylord White. The Indianapolis champ will wreak his vengeance on other drivers here Sunday afternoon. Time trials start at 1:30 p.m. with the races scheduled to start an hour later.

Bill Holland

kicked and the target was Holland. Result: Bill was suspended on a semi-trumped up charge."

This wasn't the only time that Holland has been dealt a low blow by the triple A. But let Sweeney tell it. "Holland was cruising along in second place in the late stages of the 1947 race when his pit gave him the signal: flag to take it easy—that everything was okay. Holland thought he was leading and had a sure victory. Drivers have no way of knowing what their position is, and they depend upon their pit crew to inform them."

"Well, Bill was as hot as his Blue Crown special when he climbed out of the cockpit and found that he finished second behind Mauri Rose."

$700 Loot Stolen At Two Franklin Stores; Safes Chiseled Open

Cash and merchandise amounting to more than $700 were stolen from three business establishments at Franklin late Wednesday night or early Thursday morning in a series of burglaries. Safes at two stores were hammered and chiseled open, but at a grain elevator the burglars found the safe unlocked.

The loss at the K.W. store was placed at about $500 by H. L. Whitlock, one of the proprietors, who conducts the business in partnership with C. D. Kinney.

A considerable amount of cash was removed from the safe, which was opened with tools. The loot included 100 cartons of cigarettes, 90 pairs of nylon hose, leather gloves, and other articles.

The safe at Red and White store operated by Earl Tilton was ruined by repeated sledgings. The cash haul there was about $100. More nylon hosiery and cigarettes were stolen from the Tilton store.

Shifting attention to the Jewsbury grain elevator, prowlers yanked open the door of the unlocked safe. A small amount of change, probably $1.50 was taken there.

The same method of entrance was used at all three places. Windows were broken, after which the locks were released.

Early Thursday morning the sheriff's office received a report of the Franklin robberies, after which Chief Deputy L. L. Edlen left for the village to start an investigation. Tilton, who resides in Jacksonville, said his loss is covered by insurance.

White Hall Posts, Ministers Plan For Memorial Day

White Hall — American Legion Post No. 70 met Monday night at the Legion Home. At a short business meeting which preceded the usual post session ministers of the community were in attendance to plan a Memorial Day service.

Those present included Rev. Walter L. Wilson of the Presbyterian church; the Baptist minister; Rev. Ben A. Bohn, president of the Ministerial Alliance; Rev. Ruth Nicklin of the Christian church; Father Kowalski, representing Father Enright of the All Saints church; Rev. Ollie Phillips of the Calvary Baptist church; and Commander Francis Conrod of V.F.W. post No. 7684.

Commander Bob Hubbard appointed Bruce Liming and Billy McCarthy to represent the Legion post and the above group with Dorothy M. Young as president of the Legion Auxiliary met and arranged the program for Memorial Day.

The group will assemble at White-side park at 10:30 a.m. Friday, May 30. The two posts and Auxiliaries and the 40 and '8 will have their flags. All will march to Soldier's Hill in the White Hall cemetery for the ceremonies.

The drum and bugle corps is being asked to march.

The program will begin with the invocation by Rev. Wilson. Both the V.F.W. and American Legion Auxiliaries will hold a ritualistic service with Presidents Edith Bishop and Miss Young, and their chaplains taking part.

The address will be given by Rev.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 60 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

W. G. Montgomery, pastor of the Methodist church. The firing squad and a bugler to play taps will be furnished by the two posts. Rev. Ollie Phillips will give the benediction.

The entire community is invited to attend the service and to join in the parade.

Lodge Holds Initiation
Adams Rebekah lodge No. 375 met Tuesday night for a potluck supper at 7 o'clock.

The degree team with Ruth Bannard as captain initiated Edith Frye, Dorothy Faulkner and Alma Dugger as new members.

Commencement Program
Rev. Ben A. Bohn will present the sermon at the eighth grade commencement Friday evening. His wife will play the processional and recessional. The high school choir and a girls' ensemble will sing.

The invocation will be spoken by Rev. Walter L. Wilson, the benediction by Rev. Ollie Phillips.

TROPICAL FISH MULTIPLY

Philadelphia—(P)—Raising tropical fish is a hobby that can easily get out of hand, explained Jules Corotis to Zoning Board of Adjustment officials.

They multiply so fast you have to find ways to get rid of them, he said. He has been selling them and giving some away to neighbors. He seeks a use permit in connection with his fish enterprise in the basement of his home.

JUNIOR MISSIONARY GROUP OF CONCORD CHURCH IS ACTIVE

The Junior Missionary society of the Concord Methodist church met Friday night, May 16 with 12 members present. The children's chairman, Mrs. Carl C. Robinson, was in charge, assisted by Mrs. C. W. Leonard.

After group singing the group studied "Meeting Friends in Latin America." Mexican games were enjoyed and an offering was taken. The group adjourned after a prayer and song and plans were completed to meet again May 24.

Attending were Shirley Moss, Peggy Caywood, Phyllis Moss, Connie DeFrate, Robert Wegehoff, Patricia Robison, Kenneth Stanley, Sara Sue Rayborn, Mary Ann Rayborn, Tommy Newby, Jimmy DeFrate, Jack Scott of Chapin, Mrs. Leonard and Mrs. Robison.

The Palouse country, extending into northern Idaho, raises 80 per cent of the total U. S. pea production.

HUNGARIAN BOYS LEARN FAST AT ASHLAND SCHOOL

Ashland—Mrs. Amant, teacher in the Ashland high school, reports that her two Hungarian students are learning very swiftly. They cannot, as yet, form sentences in English. The boys can read school books but sometimes do not understand the meaning of what they read. They have written a paragraph dealing with their trip through Chicago and hope to be able to read it in English very soon.

27 Waverly Girls Enrolled In 4-H, Home Bureau Told

Waverly—The local unit of Home Bureau met on Tuesday with Mrs. Walter Ford.

Sixteen members answered roll call by naming favorite books. The July meeting will be held one day early, since it conflicted with the Morgan County 4-H Achievement Day.

Mrs. H. E. Rilling reported an enrollment of 27 girls in the 4-H club, and said quite a few have finished their clothing projects. Mrs. Don Rawlings gave a health report on the weight control program, listing a number of illnesses that result from being overweight.

Dates of Home Bureau tours to Chicago and St. Louis were announced by the home adviser, Mrs. Frances King.

The major lesson was given by the home adviser on the making of party sandwiches. She demonstrated the making of open faced sandwiches in interesting shapes, with different fillings and decorative touches.

The selected subject was a book review presented by Mrs. Roy Brown on "April Snow" by Lillian Budd, a book full of Swedish lore.

The unit will meet with Mrs. Roy Brown in June. Mrs. Gilbert Luken is a new member.

Following the banquet, the Alumni dance will be held in the high school gymnasium from 9 p.m. until midnight. Bob Sassenberger's dance band will furnish the music, featuring Waverly's Jimmie Conlee.

BUSY COLLEGE STUDENT

Peizer, S. C.—(P)—Bob Edens, 22-year-old college man, has a schedule that's enough to tucker a person out just reading about it.

He's up at 3 a.m., delivers 81 newspapers, walks home for breakfast, then trudges a mile to a highway and hitch-hikes a 17-mile ride to Greenville and his classes at Furman university.

Even on Sundays he delivers papers. He also works with young people at the First Baptist church. After that he does his homework.

Alias Basil Willing

By Helen McCloy

Copyright 1951 by Helen McCloy Brouss, printed through permission of the publisher, Random House, Inc. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Jack Duggan, a private detective, was murdered and Miss Katherine Shaw dies under mysterious circumstances following a dinner given by a psychiatrist at which Duggan appeared to be impersonating Basil Willing. Although the dinner was seemingly part of Dr. Zimmer's treatment of some of his patients, there seems to be many suspicious circumstances surrounding the guests. Dr. Zimmer has decided to resume the gatherings. Charlotte Dean, Miss Shaw's secretary, regards her invitation with suspicion, but Basil thinks she will be in no danger and wants her to go so that she can report on what takes place.

XXII
BASIL WILLING'S library was a pleasant place to spend the long hours that decline so gently from late afternoon to sunset in spring. At one end, tall windows stood open to the bustle and drama of the street scene with a wide expanse of sky above the low buildings opposite, and the room was so deep that one could sit there observing, unobserved. Usually Basil enjoyed these hours of the day more than any other, but Friday evening he was troubled.

"What's wrong?" asked Gisela quietly after Juniper had brought in mint juleps.

"I took a great responsibility the other day. I let Charlotte Dean accept an invitation to dine tonight at Dr. Zimmer's with the same people who were there the night Duggan and Miss Shaw died."

"Is there any reason why she shouldn't?"

"I don't know of any, but I don't like the idea."

Gisela did not mention the matter until after dinner when curtains were drawn, the fire lit, and they sat before it, drinking coffee.

"Has it occurred to you that Duggan may have been killed because someone really believed he was Basil Willing?"

"It has occurred to Brinsley Shaw."

"Maybe he was trying to clear Rosamund Yorke. She's the only person who knew from the beginning that Duggan was not Basil Willing."

"He was trying to clear Brinsley Shaw. And he tried quite adroitly to kill two birds with one stone—first, to scare me off the case; second, to make me believe that Duggan's death had nothing to do with Miss Shaw's employing Duggan and therefore that Miss Shaw had died a natural death. Duggan's death didn't worry Brinsley much, since he had no apparent motive for killing Duggan. But I was not fooled by Brinsley's suggestion. It couldn't be coincidence that Miss Shaw and Duggan, a private detective she employed, died the same night after being with the same people."

"Have the police checked Dr. Zimmer's account of his background?"

"Of course. All the available facts are just as he and his sister said. Whoever poisoned Duggan, it can't have been Zimmer."

"You say that Duggan was poisoned by someone who knew he was a private detective. Zimmer could have found that detective license while Duggan was still alive."

"BUT Zimmer was nowhere near Duggan's glass while Duggan was drinking. I was watching Zimmer all that time."

"What about Otto? He served the cocktails. It would have been easy for him."

"How could Otto possibly know Duggan was a private detective?"

"Zimmer might have told him."

"Impossible. Zimmer and Otto didn't speak to each other after Duggan came. They weren't even close enough to speak to each other."

Pensively Gisela looked into the fire where a feather of blue flame fluttered at the heart of incandescent red coals. "Why do you trust Charlotte Dean so much?"

"Her embarrassment and everything else about her at our first meeting seemed more like innocence than Brinsley Shaw's coolness, so I'm willing to take a chance on Miss Dean. She doesn't seem to like Brinsley, but—I wish I knew what Miss Shaw meant when she said: 'They're always watching.' Who were 'they'? Brinsley and Miss Dean are the logical candidates—both heirs to Miss Shaw's money, both members of her household whom she didn't confide in when she engaged Duggan. Is there anyone else she might link with Brinsley? Perhaps Isolde Canning, with whom he is so friendly?"

Basil rose to pace the floor while Gisela sat still on the sofa, listening, chin in hand, eyes still on the fire.

"Miss Shaw suspected someone was trying to kill her," mused Basil. "I do not say her suspicion was correct."

THE telephone rang. Basil halted his pacing. Gisela lifted her chin from her hand and turned her eyes toward him. As they looked at one another, the bell pealed again, stridently, insistently.

"I hope that isn't what I think it is!"

Basil reached the telephone in three strides. Gisela looked at the clock. It was nearly midnight.

"Hello?"

A weak voice whispered, "Dr. Willing?"

"Please come to our house at once." Over the telephone wires he could hear her breath throb unevenly. "Something dreadful has happened."

"What is it?" he demanded.

"My father. I think he's dying. But there may be a chance to save him—if you come quickly."
